DISARMAMENT URGED TO CUT BIG TAX BILLS

Politicians Realize Way to Cut

WOULD HELP U. S. FARMERS

Reduction of Armaments Sure to Relieve Entire World of Huge Burden.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1920)

Washington.—Disarmament—or, to be exact, reduction of armaments—is at last coming to the front in congress as a concrete remedy for the financial and economic crisis which the whole world faces.

It is beginning to be realized in the national capital that the way to reduce taxes is to reduce expenditures and the way to sell cotton and wheat and other commodities abroad is to make it possible for foreign countries to pay for our exports. The demand from business men that taxes be reduced and the outcry of the farmers and cotton growers that foreign markets be provided has brought out the fact that the whole world situation is affected by the enormous sums of money that must be spent on war-making apparatus and personnel.

From Senator Borah, one of the leaders of the group of "irreconcilables" which has been opposed to any sort of internationalism, comes the latest proposal for an agreement between Great Britain, Japan and the United States to limit the size of armaments. Simultaneously the assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva takes action recommending to various governments the reduction of armaments.

FINANCIALS TAKE HAND

Behind the action of the league at Geneva is an even more specific suggestion from the financiers of the world who met at Brussels recently and considered how the world situation might be improved and normalcy in trade restored. The text of its recommendation is pertinent to the present move in congress.

"The first step," says the official recommendation of the conference, "is to bring public opinion in every country to realize the essential facts of the situation and particularly the need of re-establishing public finances on a sound basis as a preliminary to the execution of those social reforms which the world demands."

"The statements presented to the conference show that on an average some 20 per cent of the national expenditure is still being devoted to the maintenance of armaments and to preparations for war. The conference desires to affirm with the utmost emphasis that the world cannot afford this expenditure. Only by a frank policy of mutual cooperation can the nations hope to regain their old prosperity, and to secure that result the whole resources of each country must be devoted strictly to productive purposes. The conference accordingly recommends most earnestly to the council of the League of Nations the desirability of conferring at once with the several governments concerned with a view to securing a general and agreed reduction of the crushing burden of armaments which, on their existing scale, still impose on the impoverished people of the world, sapping their resources and imperiling their recovery from the ravages of war. The conference hopes that the assembly of the League will take energetic action to this end."

Mr. Blaine U. S.

The assembly of the league has taken action. It first asked the United States to send unofficial representatives but President Wilson declined.

"RUM" JURY WILL CONVENE AGAIN

Warrants for Alleged Liquor
Law Violators Are Held Up.

By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee.—It became known here today that warrants against alleged liquor law violators, indicated by the federal grand jury, were being held up pending convening of the jury tomorrow. The jury returned indictments against 85 persons early last week, and twenty previous to that time.

The jury last Saturday let it be known it had unanimously adopted a resolution petitioning Wisconsin congressmen to start action to amend or repeal the Volstead prohibition law, permitting manufacture and sale of light wines and beer. Serving of warrants had been held up because of other cases in federal court, but it was said in authoritative quarters today that now they are being held up until the jury meets again.

Call for reconvening of the jury was issued yesterday. Federal Judge Geiger, for 11 o'clock Friday morning. When the jury completed its work, Judge Geiger held it as a special investigating body, but said it would not be recalled until early in January.

Various unconfirmed reports were in circulation here today concerning the recall for tomorrow.

STORM FORCES LAKE BOATS TO SEEK SHELTER

Goodrich Liner Alabama Driven
Across Lake Michigan by High Wind.

STORM SWEEPS SUPERIOR

Captains Start for Home Ports
as Storm Gradually Lessens.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Milwaukee.—The Goodrich liner Alabama, carrying 100 passengers and a crew of forty, eighteen hours overdue on its trip from Chicago to Muskegon, Mich., which laid off the Milwaukee breakwater all last night, waiting for a break in the blizzard raging over the lake, steamed out on its eighty-five mile trip across Lake Michigan shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. The United States weather bureau here reported the storm over the lakes abating and United States coast guards and navy radio stationmen, who had been in touch with the Alabama, reported her captain decided to attempt the trip.

The Alabama was one of several ships still playing on Lake Michigan, caught by a blizzard which has been raging since last Saturday. Officials of the Goodrich line here had no information concerning the Alabama, as it is not scheduled to touch this port.

Driven Out of Course.

She was due in Muskegon yesterday afternoon but at that time she was wallowing in giant waves off Milwaukee, driven miles out of her course by the wind. According to word reaching shore, she was not disabled, but waiting a chance to head across the lake.

The blizzard raging over the lakes has swept all the west and east coast towns and cities, according to information here.

The coal collier W. H. Crawford of Cleveland was grounded here during the storm late Monday and floated yesterday with a great rent in her hull.

The Crosby liner Georgia, which was to have sailed for Muskegon Saturday, was still in port here today, as was the Grand Trunk liners Milwaukee and Grand Haven, which were to have left for Grand Haven. The Pere Marquette No. 4 was reported in port at Ludington, Mich., since Monday.

BRITISH SLEUTHS SCAN ALL CABLE MESSAGES TO U. S.

Press Association Head Urges
Extension of Cables to South America.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Washington.—British secret service men scan every commercial message from England to the United States. Newcomb Carleton, president of the Western Union, disclosed to the senate committee on cables today.

Carleton was uncertain whether this censorship applied also to messages from the United States, but promised to inform the committee later.

GROWTH OF AMERICAN FOREIGN COMMERCE

and trade has definitely followed the extension of the fields of the American press associations and for that reason much greater facilities for transmission of American news abroad should be provided. W. W. Hawkins, president of the United Press, told the committee.

Hawkins also advocated the use of the navy's radio for carrying press dispatches to supplement the cable service.

He told the story of the United Press opening of the South American field as the first American press association to carry American news into that continent.

Hawkins said he would increase the amount of news sent to South America by two thousand words daily if he could get the facilities explaining that it is not now possible to get more than 2,200 words a day by the All-American cable and something over 3,000 a day from London.

Completion of the Barbados-Miami cable was favored by Hawkins who said the criticism that it connected at Barbados with a British line could also be applied to transmission of news from London or by All-American cables.

Greater communication with the Orient would be an influence for peace and good understanding between the United States and Japan, he said.

"The practically total lack of American news in the Orient is one reason for misunderstandings between the people of Japan and the United States, he declared.

McLEAN WILL ARRANGE INAUGURAL CEREMONY

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Edward E. McLean, of Washington, will be chairman of the inauguration committee that will have charge of the inauguration of President Harding on March 4.

This announcement was made today by Will H. Hays, chairman of the republican national committee.

An executive committee was also named as follows:

Edward F. Colladay, Washington; Samuel J. Prescott, Washington; Fred W. Upham, Chicago, and Jess Smith, Washington Courthouse, Ohio.

Wants Trade Board To Watch Coal Industry

By A. L. Bradford

Washington.—Supervision of the coal industry by the federal trade commission probably will be provided in a bill now being drawn by Senator Calder, republican, of New York.

The proposed bill is the result of Calder's report to the senate that coal profiteering is a "national disgrace" partly responsible for the serious housing shortage and is retarding reconstruction generally.

Calder's bill would call for creation of a separate bureau of the federal trade commission with which coal operators, wholesalers, retailers and jobbers would be compelled to file regular reports on the total tonnage produced and handled, prices, costs and profits.

Seven bills are now being drafted by Calder to carry out the recommendations of his reconstruction report. These include the measure on coal and the following subjects:

- 1—Transportation to prevent "export" orders by the interstate commerce commission, because, Calder said, priority orders have retarded building and invited profiteering.
- 2—To abolish the cost-plus reconstruction system.
- 3—To revise taxes and to grant limited exemption to real estate mortgages which would encourage investment in homes and building.
- 4—Broadening of the home loan bank bill.
- 5—Creation of a housing bureau, as a clearing house for knowledge on construction work.
- 6—Revision of the postal savings system to consolidate all federal thrift activities under the postal savings branch of the postoffice department.

FORCED TO SEEK SHELTER

Sancti Ste. Marie, Mich.—Wireless reports received here today from the storm-swept waters of Lake Superior where a blizzard is raging and from Detroit, where thirteen vessels laden with grain were forced to lie in shelter for two days, show that no boat is in danger, all having weathered the storm from their places of shelter.

Despite the snow on Lake Huron all of the grain laden vessels have left Detroit, southbound. Several left last night and the rest early today. The Soo locks are being kept open several days longer than had been expected to allow passage of the delayed vessels from Lake Superior.

The wrecking tug General, which left here last night in an attempt to reach the wrecked steamer Winona, was forced to turn back. Three wrecking companies are attempting to salvage the Winona before she is frozen in.

GERMAN MADE TOYS ARE ARRIVING IN AMERICA

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—"Made in Germany" Santa Claus will return to America this Christmas and fill almost half as many stockings as he did in 1914, just before the world war.

Import figures at the department of commerce disclosed today this remarkable come-back of Germany into the American toy market.

In 1914, Germany sent $7,718,854 worth of toys into the United States. During the war Germany, of course, lost her position of toy leadership in this country. This year German imports of toys total $3,504,484, or a gain within two years after the war of about fifty per cent of the American toy trade.

Passports Do Not Worry De Valera

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Eamonn De Valera, "president of the Irish republic," intimated today that when he got ready to return to Ireland, he would slip out of the United States without a passport, just as he came in.

Commenting on reports that Premier Lloyd George might let him return to participate in peace negotiations, De Valera said he didn't ask Lloyd George's consent before leaving Ireland and that he wouldn't ask his consent before going back.

This comment by De Valera was given out at Irish headquarters but De Valera himself failed to appear. It being explained he was ill. Attaché of the headquarters gave an air of mystery to his whereabouts. His suite at the Waldorf has been given up and while the Sinn Féin offices in Washington said he was enroute to the Pacific coast, Irish offices in the west said he was in New York. This gave rise to a report that he had started back for Ireland.

HARDING MAY SUMMON PEACE PARLEY IN U. S.

By Raymond Clapper

By United Press Leased Wire
Marion, Ohio.—Calling of a new peace conference to meet in the United States to revise the league of nations covenant or organize a new association of nations is one of the projects under consideration by President-elect Harding.

The conference probably would be held in Washington.

Harding hasn't made final decision on the proposal, but it is understood he is seriously considering it.

Such a conference, Harding's advisers say, could either revamp the existing league framework or create an entirely new structure. Intimations from some of Harding's visitors are that the president-elect is leaning toward an entirely new program of international relations.

Many of Harding's advisers are convinced that the Versailles treaty must be rewritten, holding many of its provisions such as those relating to reparations, boundaries, the Ruhr basin and Silesia unworkable. In this regard, the league of nations covenant could be omitted, they say, permitting the work of organizing a world association of nations to be carried out independently of the treaty settlement.

While leaving to Europe the work of redrafting the treaty, the United States could properly assume leadership in formulating a new scheme of international relations, it was explained.

Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts, vice-president-elect, was to arrive here today for a conference. Harding, by inviting Coolidge here, is taking the first step toward fulfilling a campaign promise to take the vice-president into full partnership in the affairs of his administration.

BRITISH LABOR OPENS DRIVE TO STOP IRISH WAR

Hope for Peace in Erin Is Not Dead Despite Lloyd
George's Attitude.

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—British labor today began an offensive for peace in Ireland. After a long forenoon session, an executive commission representing the labor party arranged to send a deputy to Premier Lloyd George in the interest of peace. The commission heard the report of Arthur Henderson and other laborites who recently investigated conditions in Ireland.

Henderson himself returned after a week in Dublin, convinced, he said, that the time had come for negotiations. Other members of the party remained in Ireland for a time and visited other cities. They declared peace is still possible despite the violence occurring since the matter was reached.

There were some minor outbreaks including the shooting of Canon Magner, parish priest at Dunmurry. The policeman was said to have shot him down without a word. The officer was reported under arrest and facing immediate court martial.

Reviving interest in peace negotiations was due to the letter of Father O'Flanagan to Premier Lloyd George. O'Flanagan while rejecting O'Flanagan's offer left the way open for O'Flanagan to continue negotiations.

Business was reviving in Ireland as a result of reports that railway workers will no longer refuse to operate the roads. In the southwestern district, however, many shop keepers have boarded their windows and sought safety in the country.

It was believed the military might undertake some method of provisioning.

SENATE MAKES IT CRIME FOR RAIL MEN TO STRIKE

Poindexter Bill Prohibiting Railroad Strikes Passes
Senate.

Washington.—The senate today passed the Poindexter bill, making strikes which interfere with interstate commerce crimes.

The bill, which was passed without debate, makes it illegal to foment strikes or prevent workers in interstate commerce continuing in their employment. It provides a maximum fine of $15,000 and ten years imprisonment for violation.

It also provides that it shall be a crime for directors or managers of railroads to enter into any combination with intent to hinder or prevent operation of trains to bring pressure for settlement of a labor dispute. This provided $500 fine or six months imprisonment.

It is believed the bill will encounter difficulties if it comes up in the house.

PRY INTO GIGANTIC RING OF SWINDLERS

Los Angeles, Cal.—Secret indictments have been returned here against two alleged members of a gigantic bunco ring which is declared to have cleaned up $600,000 from about thirty five tourists last spring from Iowa. The ring, and the middle west, it was learned today.

Their arrests have been expected momentarily.

It is understood that one of the men was a member of the notorious Norwood gang and said to be the stay of "Army" Sullivan, who was killed in Salt Lake City.

The case upon which the indictment was based, it is said, was the swindling of a Kansas banker out of $53,000.

Holstein Breeders Will Battle 'Oleo'

Outagamie County Holstein
Breeders Hold Annual Meeting Here—Name of Organization Is Changed to Avoid Conflict.

Practically the entire morning session of the annual meeting of the Fox River Valley Holstein Breeders' association at the courthouse this morning was taken up with a discussion of the oleomargarine question and the methods to be employed in discouraging its use.

It was brought out that farmers and even some dairy men were among the greatest users to their own detriment and a united effort is to be made to get them to use their own product and to discourage merchants from handling butter substitutes.

Before taking an adjournment at one o'clock, President R. J. Schaefer appointed a committee consisting of Malchi Ryan, George Schaefer and Lloyd Tubbs to take the matter up with the Fox River Valley Guernsey association and the Wisconsin Dairy Council at Madison.

By reason of the fact that there are other Fox River Valley Holstein Breeders' associations, the association decided to change its name to the Outagamie County Holstein Breeders' association by an almost unanimous vote. E. O. Miller, secretary and treasurer, presented his annual reports. The afternoon session will be held at the Northwestern House.

GUERNSEY MEN TO HOLD SALE HERE IN SPRING

Preparations for Big Event Are Started at Fox River Valley Meeting.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST OLEO

Farmers Declare Butter Substitute Is More Expensive Than Real Thing.

The Fox River Guernsey Breeders' association, at its annual meeting at the Northwestern house Wednesday, decided to hold a sale in Appleton next spring, but the date was left to the sale committee. It was suggested that it be held the latter part of March or early in April, but many were of the opinion that a later date was more advisable. The selection of a sale committee was left to the board of directors.

The advisability of holding a fair next spring was discussed at length. While some breeders admitted that the market for purebreds was not what it should be they took an optimistic view of the situation and predicted that prices will improve within the next few months. Others were doubtful if banks would be willing to loan money to purchasers of purebreds was not high.

Broods on account of the tightening of the money market and the policy of bankers to withhold loans, but they were assured by those connected with banks that loans for speculative purposes only were being withheld.

It was the consensus of opinion that if a sale is held it would be necessary to make it one of the best in the state and that neither money or effort should be spared. Appleton was selected as the best place because of its favorable location and an effort will be made to secure the armory. It was decided not to offer more than fifty head for sale as it was the experience of those giving sales that where a greater number of cattle were offered the last 15 or 20 sold never brought good prices. It is possible that a sale of graded cattle will be held the evening before the regular sale.

Purebred sales of the association last year amounted to $25,000. The highest prices paid were $1,000 for heifers and $900 for bulls. The record of sales was not complete but Harry Leppa, secretary, stated that 22 purebred females were sold for $9,695, averaging $445, while 34 purebred bulls brought $7,100, an average price of $209. Twenty-seven graded cows were sold for $3,760, an average price of $139.

Advertise Sale

The matter of advertising the sale and securing appropriate stationery for members was discussed. It was generally conceded that the sale should be extensively advertised regardless of expense. Paul O. Nyhus, farm agent of the First National bank suggested the adoption of a standard letter head. Realizing the importance of an attractive letter head, Secretary Corbett of the chamber of commerce suggested that the service of an experienced designer be engaged.

Discuss Annual Picnic

The annual picnic next summer will be made an elaborate affair. Leon J. Dolan, of Brown county invited the association to meet at his farm but inasmuch as the picnic last summer was held in Brown county some of the members wanted it held nearer home next summer. Secretary Corbett suggested that it be made a joint affair with the chamber of commerce. He said the chamber will furnish a band and good speaker. This met with general approval. The matter, however, was held open.

Tuberculin Tests

The tuberculin test also came up for discussion. While testing of herds was not making much progress in some parts of the county, J. Spars of Ellington said that practically all 30 patrons of Gopher Hill cheese factory to which he delivers his milk had decided to have their herds tested. A. R. Kassilke, formerly of Beloit, who recently purchased the Glaser farm in the town of Harrison, told of the benefits of the test.

Blind Trail Leads To Armenian Mediation

By Ralph H. Turner

Washington.—The avenue of approach to the proposed Armenian mediation apparently was still hidden from American officials today.

President Wilson has accepted the league of nations invitation to mediate between Armenians and the Turkish nationalists. He has appointed Henry Morgenthau, former ambassador to Turkey, as his personal representative in the mediation.

Russian soviets who are unrecognized by the United States, hold the key to the Armenians.

Since the league of nations sent its proposal of mediation to President Wilson, Armenia guided largely by expediency, it is believed here, has accepted bolshevik control. With the Turks pressing them from the west and the bolsheviks pouring into the near east through the Caucasus mountains on the north, the Armenians "went bolshevik" as the lesser of two evils.

Recent advices indicate that a form of coalition government has been formed in Armenia, composed of soviet leaders and Armenian nationalists.

Morgenthau therefore, according to the belief here, either must move as though he were saving the Armenians from bolshevism, or attempt to solve the problem by working through Russia, which would savor of some hint of cooperation with the soviet leaders.

As one measure of facilitating the Morgenthau mission, President Wilson favors advancing a loan to Armenia, as indicated in his recent message to congress. This plan, if granted, would be in the neighborhood of $25,000,000, according to the suggestion in official quarters here.

HORTONVILLE FIRE

Appleton Fire Department Helps Battle Flames in Near- by Village.

Fire starting from explosion of gasoline in the Spier and Remmel garage in Hortonville about 230 o'clock this afternoon partially destroyed that building and the W. M. Gartzko tailor shop adjoining. Chief George T. McGillan of the Appleton fire department sent hose company No. 1 and its motor pumping apparatus to help fight the flames. The fire was under control at 2:45 o'clock, according to word from Hortonville.

Arthur Remmel, one of the proprietors of the garage, was badly burned in the explosion. Flaming gasoline was scattered all over the building which began to burn in many places. Three automobiles were destroyed, it was said.

The Gartzko shop began burning on the side nearest the garage but the village fire fighters, aided by a bucket brigade, checked the flames.

LOST AIRMEN PROTECTED AGAINST COLD AND HUNGER

New York.—With no word today from three navy lieutenants who left here Monday in a balloon headed for Canada, it was believed the officers must be floundering through snow and underbrush of the Upper Adirondacks.

The region has been covered by a two foot fall of snow. Brooks have frozen over and forest and sections have been made practically impassable by drifting snow.

Naval officers here saw some hope in that the lieutenants were clad for the Arctic upper air and that their instruments would enable them to determine their locations and direction they should take. They also were supplied with food to last several days.

Philadelphia.—One per cent of the 194,000 taxable persons in the Philadelphia district were delinquent, Internal Revenue Collector Leoderer estimated here today.

The total amount due the government as final payment on the 1918 income taxes was $38,700,000.

READ ABOUT YOUR OWN WORK

There are two or three books somewhere that will tell you simply how to become more efficient at those tasks that earn your daily bread.

We have made a special effort to find out just what those books are, to list them for you, and to show you how you can get them.

We now offer you our lists. They are free. They are so arranged that you can turn to the calling you follow—be it salesman, mechanic, farmer, what-not—and find your outline of reading.

It is reasonable to predict that any worker who reads, during the long winter evenings that are ahead, three books about the thing he is doing, will reap a benefit of increased earnings that will follow him to the end of his life.

BANKERS EAT AND DISCUSS BUSINESS

John Sherman, Charles Raught and H. P. Muehl Speak in Kaukauna.

John J. Sherman, president of the Citizens National bank, was one of the principal speakers at the meeting of the Outagamie County Bankers' association Wednesday evening at Kaukauna. He spoke on "Relation of Banking in Europe and in America."

Several Appleton bank officials and bankers were at the meeting. Dinner was served at Elk hall and the program followed. The attendance was not as large as usual because it was impossible to travel by automobile. Charles E. Raught, cashier of the First National bank, Kaukauna, spoke on "Credit Statements to Be Furnished to Bankers by Borrowers." Harvey P. Muehl, cashier of the Seymour State Bank, spoke on "The Bank Director—His Duties and Responsibilities."

Mr. Sherman explained the system used by European banks in training employees. He made considerable inquiry about these methods in his recent tour of central Europe. He stated that young men must have the equivalent of a high school education before they are given employment. They are required to serve an apprenticeship of three years at a salary of about $50 a year. At least 10 hours a week must be spent in a school where courses along business lines are taught. Part of this is done on the bank's time and the remainder in the evening.

An examination is required of each apprentice at the end of the three-year period. If he passes it successfully he is appointed bank clerk or junior officer and then works for promotions. Mr. Sherman also stated that the whole banking field themselves. He described many of the methods and named things which it might be well for American banks to adopt.

Mr. Muehl's address showed in detail what is expected of a bank director. He quoted from the law on the subject and indicated that the directors are the real managers of a bank. A great responsibility rests upon them, he stated. They must perform their duties unselfishly and impartially. They must work for the interests of the public, the stockholders and the bank. Their compensation in no way commensurates with the service they render.

Mayor Raught gave his idea of what a customer should submit in the way of a business statement when asking for loans. He described the best procedures and gave many suggestions as to how a banker could help protect his institution against "bad" loans or losses.

The vaudeville program at Appleton theatre last half of this week is featured by "Croo" a novelty act which is sure to create unusual interest. Other numbers are Mattus and Young, dancers; Barton and Hall, musical yodelers; Gilmore Corbin, a young man who can do all sorts of things.

HIGH SCHOOL "A" MEN TO PLAY CLASS CHAMPS

The champions of the interclass tournament, the sophomores, will play basketball against the "A" men of the high school Thursday afternoon. The seniors feel that the sophomores are not the real champions because the "A" men were barred from playing with the senior team in the tournament. The game today will decide whether the seniors would have had a better chance under different circumstances.

The "A" team consists of Dunn, Brice, Bloomer, Jacobson and McQueen.

CUT ARMAMENT TO REDUCE TAXATION

on the ground that America had not entered the League of Nations. There is some suggestion here that Great Britain and Japan and France will use as an excuse to retain their armaments the fact that the most powerful nation of all—the United States—refuses to join. Secretary Daniels has recommended a big naval building program and Secretary Baker has proposed a large army all on the theory that until there is international agreement it is unsafe for America to take the initiative.

President-elect Harding is committed to a reduction of armament. His campaign speeches as well as the republican platform have urged it.

Officials and economists insist that if a general program of reducing armaments could be agreed upon, the following things would probably happen:
What May Happen
Income taxes would be reduced because foreign countries would be able to use some of the money they are spending for armament in paying America something on the big war debt of ten billions.

If payments were made on the war debt the credit of European countries would be enhanced.

American wheat and cotton and other goods would find a ready market abroad because the rate of exchange would go up as the credit of each country advanced and thus the shortage of commodities abroad would be satisfied by the American surplus and better prices would be obtainable.

For wheat, cotton and other products which are now so low priced.
Liberty bonds would rise in value because the American government would be able to get along without further borrowing and because payments from abroad would help pay off the interest on government obligations, which at present must be raised by taxation.

Finally, if Europe could be turned from thoughts of war and her money and men put to productive purposes, the stability of the political situation would bring about a quicker return to normal economic conditions.

Woodcraft Girls' Party
The Woodcraft girls of The Woman's club will entertain at a Christmas party Thursday evening in the Woman's club rooms. Each member will invite a friend. Dinner will be served at six o'clock. Games and music will furnish amusement.

USE FAMOUS SIRE TO IMPROVE HERDS

Novel Plan Is Adopted by Holstein Breeders to Improve Stock.

Twelve Outagamie county Holstein breeders will take a quick jump into dairying prominence through a novel plan which will give them some of the best producing cows in the state.

A contract has been entered into with Christensen Brothers and Kelley, Reighton, to bring their famous sire, Ollie Johanna Sir Payne, to the county in April. The idea was fostered by the First National Bank, and was carried out by its farm agent, Paul O. Nyhus.

The royally bred sire has five daughters with records of more than 30 pounds of butter fat a month. One four year old has a 39 pounds record and was sold to Harvest farm, Mayville, in June for $10,500. The calves produced in this county will probably approach a similar record.

Sir Ollie is sired by the famous bull, Sir Johanna Payne, and his dam is the show cow, Ollie Watson Prima Donna, with a 31.1 pound butter record.

The breeders interested in this method of improving the dairy stock of the county are Fred Ziegler, W. H. Steffensen, Edward O. Mueller, George Sasmann and son, W. Ruwold, Nick Paltzer, Fred Muehl, John Peltzer, John Pingle, N. Losseloyne, George Wehling and Joseph Byrne.

MEETING ON PROGRAM AT STATE CONFERENCE

A. G. Meating is attending the annual two days' convention of county school superintendents which opened at Madison today. At 10:30 o'clock Friday morning he will read a paper on "The Use of Tests and Measurements in Rural Schools."

One of the most important discussions on the program will be an address and discussion on "The Problem of Securing Trained Teachers for Rural Schools" by Carter Alexander, assistant superintendent of the Department of Public Instruction of Wisconsin.

Clayton Shauger of Nichols, transacted business here Wednesday. Attorney Arthur H. Gruenewald of Oshkosh, spent Thursday here on business.

GUERNSEY MEN TO HOLD SALE HERE

offis that breeders of Rock county had derived from these tests and how they had secured the assistance of the agricultural department of the state in conducting them.

It was decided to wage a campaign of education against oleomargarine which is now used extensively by farmers as well as city people. W. G. Jamison led the discussion and said that if its food value was considered it was more expensive than butter. He regretted that its use had become so general among farmers and suggested that steps be taken to discourage its sale. It was brought out that the demand for it was created thru extensive advertising and that many people were using it who were ignorant of its real value as a food. Literature showing its comparative food value with butter is to be distributed throughout the county.

Seventeen applications for membership were favorably considered. By reason of the increasing membership it was decided to have from 200 to 300 copies of the by-laws printed and distributed. Harry Leppis, Elmer J. Mory and William Breiterick were elected directors for three years. President Charles Schmidt, Wrightstown, presided.

ONEIDA HAS OVER 2,500 INDIANS

Census Figures Are Issued by Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

There are 2,557 Indians at the Oneida reservation, according to announcement made by Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs. It is believed this is a substantial increase over 1919, although no figures are available.

Populations of other Indian reservations in this vicinity are: Keshena school, 5,023; which includes students from the Oneida school closed last year; Laona agency, 364; Winnebago, 1,251; and Menominee, 1,760. Wisconsin has a total Indian population of 10,319 according to the report of the commissioner.

There were only nine marriages last year between Indians and whites, but there were 78 between Indians. Of the total number of 3,461 are avowed Protestants and 1,955 Catholics. The total area of Indian lands in the state is shown as 589,111 acres. Keshena reservation is the largest, having 231,680 acres.

The Indian population of the United States, the report says, is 236,337, as against 304,850 ten years ago, or an increase of 51,887.

Tribute to the patriotism of the Indian during the world war was paid by the commissioner. He reiterated his stand against permitting Indians to be exhibited in state and county fairs, referring to this as "backward lure," which is not permissible, as it misrepresents the status and intent of the Indians of today.

Tuberculosis is still the "white plague" among the Indians, but progress is being made in fighting it by teaching sanitation and correct living.

Must Be Careful In Filing Tax Returns

Tax Expert Discusses Wisconsin Laws at Chamber of Commerce Forum at Y. M. C. A.—Should Keep All Income Tax Data.

Taxation problems of many kinds were explained by Earl C. Bracken, Milwaukee, in an address before the Chamber of Commerce members Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. on "Principles of Federal Taxation."

What to do and what not to do in filing returns were told to his hearers. About 100 men were present at the dinner, which was served at 6:30 o'clock. Community singing, led by Chester Roberts, lived up the meeting.

A Christmas reading was given by Miss Alice Dillon of Lawrence college. Joseph Koffend, Jr., presided and introduced the speaker. Mr. Bracken directed his talk largely toward taxation in Wisconsin, explaining that previous speakers from the Archibald Harris company and other organizations had covered the federal field. Perhaps his most important piece of advice was the proper method of paying Wisconsin income tax in such a way that money can be recovered if it is found that an error has been made in the state's favor.

Protest If in Doubt.
He stated that voluntary payment of taxes to the state of Wisconsin makes it impossible under the law to file a claim later on for taxes erroneously paid. The question of legality is waived. The tax commission can give no relief for mistakes unless it stretches the law. The best way to overcome this, if there is any question about the state taxes, is to pay them under protest. Have the state treasurer's receipt plainly marked "paid under protest." This gives opportunity to recover.

A peculiar thing about the state law, he pointed out, was that it dates all taxes as of December 31. No matter what date a person takes up residence in Wisconsin, he must pay income tax for the whole year. A man who marries during the year can claim exemption on a basis of $400 up to the time he was married, and on the basis of $1,200 after that.

Inventory Basis.
Inventories were given considerable attention by the speaker. He mentioned a ruling made in 1918 that inventories could be taken at cost or market value, depending on which was the larger. Those who did not adopt the latter policy in 1918 could not take it up now under the old ruling. The treasury department has changed the ruling now, because of the advantage of taking inventory on market value instead of cost. Proper application must be made to the commissioner of internal revenue to change the system of taking inventory, accompanied by an affidavit. Mr. Bracken had a model copy of such application with him, and promised to leave it with Secretary Corbett so the members could secure a copy. He said he believed it permissible to take inventory on the market value basis if application had been filed.

Mr. Bracken mentioned the movement for a federal sales tax as a substitute for present systems of securing revenue. He quoted arguments from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States showing why it should be discouraged.

Opposes Sales Tax.
A turnover tax, it holds, would not be simple of administration; would be pyramided, causing higher prices; its yield would be uncertain; it would work to the advantage of large industrial establishments which begin their processes with the raw material, carrying manufacture on to the completed article. It would tax but once foreign goods admitted; it would be unfair to persons at the bottom of the economic scale, on whom it would fall disproportionately heavier than on those who enjoy a wider margin between income and necessary expenditure. It would probably involve legal difficulties, as it was believed that the supreme court would declare it unauthorized by the income tax amendment.

Business men were urged to be careful in preparing state returns. He warned them against the idea that any kind of return could be submitted because the state did not have a corps of examiners in the field. The law permits the state to collect back taxes for three years. It had one man in the field who collected $600,000 additional taxes within a short period from firms that had not filed proper returns.

Should Preserve Data.
The speaker urged preservation of all data used in compiling income tax returns. No more valuable record could be kept by any firm or individual than those of the income tax return. Those records may be demanded any time, and it would take months to secure duplicate copies from the government.

Careful figuring in order to pay the lowest possible tax, and changing the form of organization to avoid paying certain taxes were considered by Mr. Bracken to be proper and the part of wisdom.

A verbal statement had been secured from the state tax commission by Mr. Bracken to the effect that if the system of taking inventory is changed for federal tax purposes, it should also be changed for Wisconsin. Neither the government or state permit anybody to include interest and taxes in preparing a statement of net income.

The soldier and educational bonus laws, personal property offset, dividends, capitalization, depreciation, gifts and patents were also mentioned by the speaker, telling what the law permitted in each case. He cited examples from his work in the federal and state departments, and in his present work with Archibald Harris and company, to illustrate his contentions. Many questions were asked from the floor and answered by Mr. Bracken and two other representatives of his firm who attended.

H-Y Club Meets.
Important business will be discussed at the regular meeting of the H-Y club Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A. The policy of the organization and plans for the coming year will be drafted. Bible study, social and membership committees will be appointed.

3 APPLETON MEN ON DEBATE TEAM

Judges Select Eight Debators to Represent Lawrence College.

Eight men were selected to represent Lawrence college at the debate try-out Tuesday afternoon. The selection was made after several hours had been spent in the presentation of various issues of the main question by the candidates.

The affirmative and negative teams with their alternates, will be chosen from the following men selected by the judges: Earl Hunting, Racine. Forest Hoisington, Dodgeville; Edmund Tink, Antigo; Thor Bruce, Marinette; Earl Watson, Appleton; Carl Trever, Appleton; Alfred Root, Appleton. William Sullivan, Duluth, Minn. Lawrence will debate this season on the question "Resolved: That the School books and equipment of pupils of all the grade schools and the high school will be laid aside Friday afternoon for a sixteen day Christmas recess. Neither geometric problems or the Darwinian theory will have the power to puzzle their brains for a full two weeks plus two days for good measure. The school doors will reopen Monday, Jan. 4.

United States Should Pass the Necessary Laws to Exclude Japanese Immigrants. The issues chosen as subjects for the try-outs were: "Are specific laws prohibiting Japanese immigrants necessary at the present time?" "Is the United States justified in discriminating between Japanese and European immigration?" "Will the prohibition of Japanese immigration by law lead to serious consequences for the United States?" "Is exclusion of the Japanese contrary to American ideals as expressed in the Constitution?" "Does the California situation call for complete Japanese exclusion laws?"

WILLIAM GEORGE BRUCE HEADS CATHOLIC DRIVE

Announcement has been received here of the appointment of William George Bruce, Milwaukee, as state chairman of the campaign to raise $500,000 among the Catholics of the Milwaukee, Green Bay and La Crosse dioceses. The money is to be used to maintain several Catholic charitable and benevolent institutions which are now inadequately financed.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE FARMER

The final report of the department of agriculture, just issued, shows farm production for the year 1920 at the high water mark. Of our two great grain crops, wheat has been exceeded in yield in only three previous years, while the corn yield exceeds the largest on record by 108,000,000 bushels. After taking all export sales into consideration, together with the amounts sold but not yet cleared, the United States still has 120,000,000 bushels of wheat available for export to July 1st, next, against an average carry-over of only 80,000,000 bushels.

The total valuation of this year's farm crops is placed by the government at $9,148,519,000, compared with a total valuation in 1919 of $14,087,996,000. In other words the farmers of the country at this time stand to take a loss of approximately $5,000,000,000 in shrinkage of values, which may be said to be their contribution to the economic readjustment now taking place. It is possible that a reaction from the present low price levels for farm products may take up some of this shrinkage, and the prospect is not altogether unfavorable. In all probability one of the first acts of congress will be to revise the tariff laws to give American producers increased protection, and to preserve to them more completely the home markets. Furthermore, efforts are now in progress to finance the requirements of Europe in American products. It is reasonably certain that through either governmental or private banking action Europe's buying power will be largely restored with credit extension.

It is apparent that measures of this character should be taken for the relief of the American farmer, whose continued prosperity is fundamental to the prosperity of the country as a whole. The losses he stands to take are too large; they are out of proportion to his ability to absorb. Without a doubt the agricultural interests of the country have suffered from a lack of self-protection. In other words the farmer does not possess that power over marketing and price regulation of his products that he ought to possess, and that he can acquire only through more efficient organization and cooperation. This is incidental to the general economic situation, which is adverse, but it nevertheless is a material factor in emphasizing and augmenting the farm loss.

The country will hope to see policies of the government speedily defined which will help the farmer through this trying period and which will operate in the end for the recovery of at least some of the ground he has recently lost. This is not only essential to the healthy readjustment of the country but to the promotion of agriculture generally.

There is the further fact that the farmer has suffered this shrinkage without corresponding benefit to the consumer, which is merely another illustration of the need of farm organization, coupled with laws stringently regulating speculation, and prohibiting short selling. The time has come when the country must give more serious concern to a constructive agricultural policy.

A SANE PRONOUNCEMENT

Worthy of general attention, and especially of persons agitating for rigid Sunday observance laws is the report of the committee on civic righteousness submitted to the Baptist ministers' conference in Philadelphia:

With the religious aspects of the Lord's day lawmakers and executives have nothing whatever to do, except to see that citizens are undisturbed in the free exercise of their lawful right to worship God according to their consciences. The church is interested in the passage and execution of humane and righteous laws on this and all other fit subjects for legislation, but can never properly invoke the law to enforce a religious obligation, such efforts being wrong in principle and in practice futile.

This is one of the sanest pronouncements yet made in connection with the "blue Sunday" proposition. It states the true principle which should govern in this matter, and is all the more admirable as coming from an ecclesiastical body unquestionably in favor of Sunday observance. The fathers of the American republic completed the freedom they created when they provided for religious liberty, but the very spirit of their great enactment would be repudiated if we should not take away the freedom of the general public by enforcing even a proper rule of the churches. As the above report so pointedly says, to "invoke the law to enforce a religious obligation" is "wrong in principle" and certain to be "futile" in practice.

GOING BACK TO PEACE BASIS

The house of representatives by unanimous vote has adopted a joint resolution repealing most of the war time laws. They include among others the Lever food control act. Exempted from the repeal are the trading with the enemy act, the war finance corporation act, and measures dealing with the issuance of Liberty and Victory bonds. The resolution declares that "any act of congress that by its terms is in force only during existence of a state of war and a limited time thereafter shall be construed and administered as if the present war terminated on the date when this resolution becomes effective."

The measure is practically identical with that passed by congress just before adjournment of the last session and vetoed. It is asserted at Washington that it represents one of the first steps of the Republican majority to fulfill campaign pledges and place the country on a peace basis. The laws which this resolution would repeal relate purely to domestic administration and to unusual powers conferred upon the president. As a matter of fact their existence has not during the past year had anything to do with delaying peace readjustment. Practically speaking the country has not been aware of these statutes. They have not been invoked to the detriment of business nor in interference with economic reconstruction. Their repeal will produce no visible change in the country's affairs. The talk that is made about the consequences of repeal and restoration of the country to a peace basis is mostly just talk.

It has not been the existence of these laws that prevented the return of the country to a peace basis. Had this been so the remedy would have been very simple for all congress would have had to do was to repeal these statutes and the thing was accomplished. The president might have vetoed the act because he felt it would be inadvisable to deprive the government of some of the powers as an emergency precaution but if congress disagreed with the president it could have easily passed a repeal over his veto. All of these acts could have been wiped out the day after the armistice was signed had congress been so minded or at any time since. If there have been any bad results from failure to repeal these laws congress and congress alone is to blame. The importance of the repeal now undertaken is of paper importance only.

The restoration of this country to a peace basis in a real sense means treaty conclusion of peace with Germany. Incidentally it means conclusion of that peace in conjunction with the allies. This is the only way we can go back to that peace which is fundamental to a restoration of normal conditions in our relations, both commercial and political, with Europe. The laws about to be repealed are obsolete and in disuse. Not until we face our just responsibilities growing out of the World war and our participation in it and either accept or repudiate them will America go back to a peace basis.

JUMPED INTO A FORTUNE

Berlin—Fritz Schaaf, Hotel Adlon page boy, jumped into a fortune. That is literally true. A film company wanted someone who would jump from a tower several hundred feet high into a net. Schaaf, 19 years old, allowed he was willing to try a "Steve Brodie," especially as there was money in it.

He jumped while the movie machine cranked and came out sound except for a wrenched ankle. The company has paid 75,000 marks in trust for him until he is of age after which he hopes eventually to get into the hotel restaurant business for himself. The money is about the equivalent of an ordinary worker's wages for six years.

DIVORCES FROM WAR WEDDINGS

Berlin—Sixty per cent of German divorces at this time are of couples wedded during the war. Twenty per cent of all divorces are attributable to war incidents, mainly unfaithfulness during the war.

Statistics also show that many couples during the war and since then are marrying far younger than before the war. Many girls of sixteen are now wives or widows. Fifty-five women and 42 men are noted over 100 years old, 2,600 men and 7,300 women over 90 years old.

Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

ISN'T WORK HATEFUL?

Have to summon Dr. Webster today. WORK, exertion of strength or faculties for the accomplishment of something; toil; labor; as the work of a teamster or a doctor.

PLAY: exercise intended for amusement; state of not working or attending school; a game. Just not working. That's plenty, thank you, Dr. Webster. Now kindly tell us what exercise might be.

EXERCISE: exertion for the sake of training or improvement. Going back to the beginning again. We find that exercise is so seldom done in our best families—that, everybody?

Some hypocrites let us on like to work. Others utter brave sentiments about the dignity of work. People who invent these fine sentiments never work themselves; only others.

Work is a low, hateful thing which every honest person is ashamed to be caught doing. That is why working clothes never become really fashionable. Work is a noble thing in the world of reality. Show me a human being who likes work as a steady diet, same as you and I like play, and I'll show you a freak of nature. No sane person likes work, save as a wholesome occupation for other folks.

Do you fancy that I would spend fifteen minutes of my valuable time just doing muscular work every day if I believed I could keep as well and feel as fit without squandering those fifteen minutes? Well, I wouldn't. I begrudge every minute I devote to exercise. So does every other plain man or woman.

Ah, but play, that is very different. I don't mind taking an hour or two off any old time to play. If I could only find some game to play that would give me as much and as beneficial exercise as I can get in my fifteen minutes' daily work-out, I'd certainly grab that game and say a fond farewell to the Brady symphony.

The symphony is work, hard, hateful, sweaty, vulgar, muscular work. I hate it. Yet I do it every day without fail because I have the notion that it keeps me happier all around.

There may be better music than this Brady symphony, but there's no sympathy in it or about me. And if any of the thirteen thousand readers who have sought and "received" copies of the symphony know a better tune to play over on the poor old metabolism every day, they haven't sent me a copy. A copy is yours for the inevitable self-addressed, self-stamped envelope.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Lead Poisoning

I am a monotype operator. The machine produces fumes from the lead or oil. I don't know which, and I inhale the fumes when at work. I would like to know whether the fumes will cause tuberculosis or injury health in any other way. (A. L. G.)
ANSWER—If lead is used there is no danger, in fact, inhalation of the fumes would be very likely to cause chronic lead poisoning, which may produce all sorts of grave and obscure disturbances of health. The tuberculosis rate among printers is high for some reason. The fumes should be carried off by some suitable ventilating system.

Smile and Grow Better

I have always said to my children that if "chronics" would get the habit of reading your articles and answers they would learn to forget some of their "symptoms." I have found that Dr. Brady helps one to laugh and grow better. Please tell that farmer's wife to send what ham is left to us—we'll eat it without cooking it! Every member of our family enjoys a bit of uncooked ham occasionally. (Mrs. L. Y. G.)

ANSWER—Better watch out. Trichina worm infestation has been traced in numerous cases to indulgence in raw ham or pork, and if ever you get trichinosis you may smile and smile and not be one bit better.

SOME SMILES IN RHYMES

The sky above was overcast and snowflakes scattered down as Sunny Smiles and I were riding back into our town. A sheet of white stretched out where once fields of waving grain I'd seen and all the trees around for miles looked stark and naked, lean.

"Why can't we always have fair weather, sunshine and no snow?" I asked of Sunny Smiles. "Please tell me so I'll know. When old Sol beams I feel my heart expand in happiness, but when the snow is all around I feel a grouch come on, distress."

"It wouldn't do," said Sunny Smiles, "for then there'd be no wheat. We need the snow or we would miss the most of things we eat. Perhaps you do not like the cold and snow, but still if you will just remember what it's for I don't think you'll be blue."

"And so it is with everything. You've got to look behind the scenes for most things good if happiness you'd find. If I try and bliss are worth the having take it straight from me. Just look for them in places where they do not seem to be."

Jap Education In Hawaii.

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C. — That Hawaii, no less than California, has a Japanese problem, is the report brought back by Dr. F. B. Bunker and other representatives of the Bureau of Education who have been studying conditions there.

According to the new census figures, Japanese make up nearly half of the 255,000 of population in Hawaii, and in a few years they will be able to control the vote of the islands. This would not be such a disturbing prophecy except for the fact that the Japanese in Hawaii, especially the school children, are being pulled two ways. The United States Government is there trying to educate them, hoping that those born under the United States flag will make satisfactory American citizens. At the same time, a Japanese influence is being exerted so that the children will not forget to celebrate the Emperor's birthday or grow up in ignorance of Japanese ways and traditions.

Foreign language schools, presided over by teachers brought from Japan, are set up all over the islands near the territorial public schools. Japanese parents are urged by Buddhist priests to send their children to these schools, and because the influence of the priests with the older generation is very great, the parents almost always comply. Twenty thousand children are enrolled in over 170 Japanese schools.

The children, as a rule, do not wish to attend these schools. And no wonder. The regular public school opens at nine. To attend the foreign language school first, therefore, they must rise at six or even five o'clock. They have to walk sometimes five miles, eating breakfast as they go, or leaving it out entirely. At the foreign language school they spend an hour or an hour and a half learning the Japanese language—to speak, read, and write it—and studying the history and geography of Japan. Instruction is given in approved Japanese style, the children studying noisily and reciting in parrot-like singsong.

Two Schools Too Much
Tired already, both in mind and body, the pupils troop over to the public school at nine o'clock, to sit stupidly while an American teacher, or one trained in the Hawaiian normal school, tries to teach them to speak English, and to give them a modern education.

Even after a public school work ends at two o'clock the oriental child may not be at liberty. Some of the foreign language schools teach the older children in the morning and the younger ones after two. Others insist on the attendance of all pupils at both sessions.

The complaint made universally by teachers in the public schools of the islands is that these children are over-taxed, and so tired that they cannot learn the lessons presented in English. Many of them speak English only at the public school. Others hear at home a pidgin English that is worse as a foundation for the language than no vocabulary at all.

One teacher writes: "Here is a sample of the English we get from little Japanese children of the first grade: 'Little Red Riding Hood—oh! Big teeth grandmother eat Little Red Riding Hood—oh! Grandmother big eyes eat Little Red Riding Hood.'"

Another says, "I have found in my experience in Hawaii that if any school is to suffer it will be the work of the American school. The children try enough—their efforts to keep up the work of both schools are often pitiful but the Japanese schoolmaster will see that the work of the Japanese school comes first."

Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. Can you suggest a recipe for a turkey stuffing? J. M. B.

A. The following dressing will be found most palatable: Make a corn meal mush of 2 tbsp. corn meal, salt, boiling water—cool. Stir in 1 cup fine bread crumbs, 1 beaten egg, 1 tsp. butter, lard, or melted chicken fat, 1 tsp. minced ham, 1 teasp. salt, 1 teasp. pepper, mold into tiny balls with a spoon. Stuff the turkey with the balls, allowing room for them to swell.

Q. Who is considered the founder of modern Socialism? I. M. C.

A. Karl Marx, a great economist and socialist, is regarded as the founder of modern Socialism. Modern Socialism, as a political movement, however, probably owes more to Frederick Lassalle, a disciple of Marx, than to any other man.

Q. What place is known as 'The Holy City'? D. D. E.

A. This is a common designation among different peoples and religious sects for the city regarded as the place of their religion. The term is often applied to Rome, but has been used also of Jerusalem, Benares, Mecca, Medina, Moscow, Kiev, and Cuzco.

Q. What is the largest cut stone in the world? G. R.

A. The pendant-shaped diamond, known as Cullinan I, weighing 616 karats, is the largest brilliant known to exist.

Q. What kind of airplane is a canard? E. H. B.

A. This is the type of pusher airplane having the elevator, rudder, etc., in front of the supporting plane, instead of to the rear.

Q. What became of the Germans? Big Bertha? E. T. V.

A. This gun has never been located by the Allies.

Q. What is the reason for the nickname "Black and Tan" for the Irish police? G. L. B.

A. The term originated in the fact that many members of the military forces policing Ireland at the present time wear a service uniform of khaki color, and the regulation black hat of the constabulary.

Q. Are Germans permitted to come to this country as visitors at present? A. S.

A. The Bureau of Immigration says that Germans are not permitted to visit the United States except upon special permission from our State Department. Such permission would depend probably upon the benefit to this country of such visits.

Q. What size truck is best adapted to the use of the farmer? A. O. C.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that a recent survey disclosed the fact that farmers showed a preference for one-ton trucks.

Q. Can the term "textile" be applied to materials made of other than vegetable products? H. H. N.

A. The word "textile" includes all materials which are woven, whether of animal, vegetable or mineral source.

Q. Is there a rule which governs the time when a championship game of baseball must start? R. R.

A. Every championship game must be commenced not later than two hours before sunset.

Q. When were the Senate and House wings to the Capitol built? A. E.

A. These additions were added to the central building between the years of 1861 and 1863.

Q. Who invented Volapuk? E. F. E.

A. Volapuk, literally world's speech, a language which was intended to be universal, was invented by Martin Schleyer of Krassias, Baden, about 1879.

Q. Why is there space left between the rails of a railroad? P. D.

A. It is necessary to leave a space between the rails for the contraction and expansion of the steel due to climatic changes.

UNIVERSITY DEAN RAPS 'SORE EYE SPECIAL' YARN

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Madison—Following and as a result of a "news" story sent out that many of the Wisconsin students would go home on the "Sore-eye Special" the last of this week, meaning they have been dropped from their classes and that it is customary to explain their eyes had given out, Dean C. C. Sellert, of the college of letters and science, has given out the following signed statement:

"No student who has been working steadily and doing his best is sent home at Christmas. Every hard-working student is given a full chance to find out whether he can or cannot do satisfactory college work. Only those students who have wasted their time in frivolity and thus are hopelessly behind in their work are requested not to return after Christmas. Cases of the latter sort are not numerous and students and their friends may rely upon it that every case of the kind is examined carefully and sympathetically by the executive committee of the different colleges."

Dean Sellert placed the blame for much of the "sore-eye special" fear on what he termed "the infant class in journalism," which he said, invented the term and has prolonged it to frighten new students.

Although it is a truly American organization, the Camp Fire Girls can now be found in Canada, Alaska, Mexico, China, Europe, Japan and even in India.

Over half the Japanese population of the state of Washington are women.

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM COUNTY AND STATE

63 PAPER MILLS DISCHARGE WATER

State Has Problem in Keeping Water Supply Fit for Public Use.

(Special to Post-Crescent) Madison—Wisconsin has at least 4,767 industries which discharge large volumes of wastes into streams and lakes, and give the state its problem of keeping the naturally pure water resources safe for consumption and recreational purposes.

This sanitary supervision is exercised by the bureau of sanitary engineering of the state board of health. It is charged with the control of 150 public sewerage systems, 128 canning plants, 213 chemical and miscellaneous plants, 3,921 milk products plants, 63 paper and pulp mills and 34 tanneries, and with safeguarding 260 public water supplies in as many municipalities.

SHIOCTON STATE BANK BOOSTS ITS CAPITAL

(Special to Post-Crescent) Madison—Commissioners of Banking Marshall Cousins has approved the articles of incorporation of the La Farge State Bank, Vernon county. Capital, $25,000. Incorporators: C. J. DeJean, Frank Vitenda, A. E. Zindars, J. M. Marshall, E. E. Marshall. The commission has also approved amendments increasing the capital of the bank of Shiocton, Shiocton, Outagamie county, from $10,000 to $20,000 and of the Badger State Bank, Cassville, Grant county, from $15,000 to $30,000.

The dangers involved in the inadequate supervision of sewage and industrial waste disposal in the state are more manifest every year. It has been determined that a large percentage of these plants are being operated in an inefficient manner. The treating or purifying of industrial wastes is a most difficult problem and in many cases has as yet never been satisfactorily solved. This fact makes necessary much research and experimental work.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It is very easily prepared, and there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a pint bottle, put 3/4 ounce of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and disappear. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and whooping cough.

Dried-peach producers in California were getting only fifteen cents out of each dollar spent by the consumer—less than the cost of production. The rest was being absorbed in a wasteful form of distribution. Something had to be done mighty quick or the industry was doomed. The California Peach Growers' Association was organized and the crop marketed coöperatively. The grower's share of the consumer's dollar was increased from fifteen to fifty-five cents. And the price to the consumer was lowered a cent a pound.

Such stories might be told by the dozen—and they're all true! COÖPERATION prevents waste, finds profitable markets, effects consumer savings and improves service.

It is because we desire our organization to perform these useful functions for mutual benefit that we ask your support. Ours is a real cooperative movement. Boost it! GULBRANSEN Player-Piano

Christmas and the Year 'Round—

Music, Singing, Dancing, Good Times—Well Played Music—Thanks to the Gulbransen and Its Exquisite "Pedal-Touch"

ONCE a year Christmas comes around to remind you that you can do still more for your family than you have been doing. It gives you a chance to show how grateful you are for the many kindnesses which make your home so wonderful. How will you handle this opportunity?

Your family needs a Gulbransen. You need a Gulbransen. No other form of music is as satisfying as piano music well played. Well played music, interesting music, is what you find in Gulbransen owners' homes—due to the Gulbransen and its exquisite "Pedal-Touch."

Easy to Play

Here is a player-piano different from any you have ever tried. Its pedals are so easy and responsive, they seem to become part of you. You can play it gently, delicately, brilliantly or passionately, as the music requires. It is a real musical instrument for all who love music but cannot give ten years and constant practice in order to play.

Ask any of the Gulbransen dealers named below to show you how well you can play the Gulbransen, to show you how easy it is to learn to play artistically by the Martin Method. You will get a new idea of what a player-piano can be for you and yours. You will select it as the most satisfying Christmas present you could possibly give.

Nationally Priced

Gulbransen Player-Pianos, three models all playable by hand or by roll, are sold at the same price to everybody, everywhere in the United States, freight and war tax paid. Price, branded in the back of each instrument at the factory, now includes six instruction rolls (Martin Method) and our authoritative book on home entertaining and music study with the Gulbransen.

ROSEBUSH HEADS RELIGION COUNCIL

Organization of Council for Religious Education is Completed.

At a meeting of about 85 representative Appleton people Wednesday evening at Lawrence Conservatory of Music, the Appleton Council of Religious Education was organized and officers were elected. Judson G. Rosebush was elected president; F. J. Harwood, vice-president; E. E. Henderson, clerk; W. S. Smith, treasurer; Prof. E. E. Emme, community director. The executive secretary is to be elected at another meeting of the council.

The Council of Religious Education was organized on the following fundamental principles:

Youth—the time of educational opportunity.

Emphasis—not sectarian but the fundamentals in community life, viz. God, brotherhood of man, ethical living and principles of Christianity.

Separation of church and state carefully safeguarded.

That moral and religious education is the best guarantee against moral decay and fundamental religious illiteracy.

The community must supplement our public schools, church schools, and other agencies if inadequate moral and fundamental religious instruction is not given.

The immediate object of the Appleton Council of Religious Education is a community training school which will be under the direction of a board of religious education. Teachers, largely drawn from the college, will constitute the faculty of this school which will begin its sessions in January at Lawrence College.

Three types of courses will be offered to any one who is interested in the work. They are: (1) Public departmental principles and methods, dealing with various ages in teaching, professional or cultural. Such courses will be offered as principles and methods of religious teaching, psychology, Christianity and daily living, religion of children and adolescents.

The board of religious education, which has charge of the school consists of Prof. E. E. Emme, chairman, Judson G. Rosebush, Prof. D. O. Kinsman, Mrs. Mary J. Wells, Lee C. Tracey, Dr. Samuel Plantz, Prof. M. H. Small and Fred Bushey. One other member is to be elected.

The first four officers, together with Frank Sailerbach, T. R. Hayton and J. A. Merkle will constitute the executive committee.

Commissioners were also elected at the meeting. They are W. S. Ford, Correlation of public church, parochial and synagogue schools; H. W. Russell, finance; George F. Werner, inter-church.

The constitution was submitted and adopted, with some changes.

The council now has about 60 members, but it is expected that it will be increased to 100 members soon.

BADGER HUNTERS INDOORSE PRESENT DEER HUNTING LAW

State Game Protective Association Urges Many Conservation Plans.

(Special to Post-Crescent) Madison.—After a somewhat heated discussion, the Wisconsin Game Protective Association, at its eighth annual convention here, went on record as favoring the rigid enforcement of the present one buck law with the addition that in the years divisible by five the season also be opened for does and fawns, with a one deer limit.

The Association favored making all that portion of the state lying north of a line across the state north of Marathon county, open hunting for deer, and making the ten day season open ten days earlier than at present.

Other resolutions favored at the convention included:

Urging Congress for the speedy establishment in Wisconsin of a fish cultural rescue station.

Favoring the destruction of garpike spawn under the direction of the Conservation Commission.

Favoring a law prohibiting carrying a gun in deer hunting territory for ten days before the opening of the season unless the gun is securely enclosed in a case with the barrels or magazine empty.

Favoring the opening of the season for prairie chicken grouse and partridge the first Saturday in October 1921, for eight days with a bag limit of five birds in one day.

Favoring a bag limit of 50 for white bass in one day.

Condemning the present law permitting commercial fishing with nets and urging the Legislature to repeal the law.

Opposing the present plan of the Conservation Commission of contracting with commercial fishermen for the removal of rough fish and providing that no such contracts be awarded for a period of three years, and if during that time it is deemed necessary to remove any rough fish, that it be under the direct supervision of the Commission and that no person not firm engaged in the removal of rough fish shall have any financial interest in the sale of the fish, but that all of the money shall go to the state.

Urging the legislature at its 1921 session to provide for setting aside one or more northern lakes surrounded by virgin forests as state parks for wild life refuge.

Favoring an open season for rabbits and squirrels beginning the first Saturday in October with a bag limit of ten per day.

Favoring hunting for game birds between thirty minutes before sunrise and thirty minutes after sunset.

Opposing the establishment of private fish hatcheries in public waters.

Favoring an amendment to the present dog license law permitting the owner or person in charge of a dog to remove the collar while such dog is engaged in active hunting.

Opposing the practice of some ice companies of cutting aquatic plants to extend the ice harvest within the natural borders of a stream or lake.

Favoring increasing the hunting, trapping and non-resident fishing license fee 50 cents which shall go to the Conservation Commission as subsidy.

SMALLPOX RAGES ALL OVER STATE

Over 300 Cases Reported to State Health Board So Far This Month.

(Special to Post-Crescent) Madison, Wis.—Three hundred cases of smallpox were reported to the state bureau in the first 12 days of December, which is far above the normal number for this month. Commenting on the situation today, the state board of health says:

"Order Vaccination to Stop Smallpox" is a newspaper headline which is appearing with disconcerting frequency in Wisconsin. Upon reading the articles so headed one learns that vaccination has been resorted to after smallpox has become widespread. Just why so remarkable a preventive as vaccination should be neglected until an entire community is infected with a loathsome disease is a matter which continues to puzzle the state board of health. Seemingly it requires a large number of fatalities, such as accompanied influenza and tuberculosis, to create a reactionary fear of disease.

"It is true that smallpox is now attended by few fatalities. Probably this accounts for the all too frequent expression, 'I would rather have smallpox than be vaccinated.' Needless to say, many of those who take this position are afflicted with the disease.

There are other phases to the prevalence of smallpox, however, than the occasional death caused by the malady. Aside from the actual suffering experienced by thousands of useful citizens each year there is the great inconvenience caused many additional persons through quarantine. The attendant economic loss to a community and particularly to individuals through these causes is manifestly difficult of accurate measurement, but nevertheless long and considerable in the aggregate.

"Another matter which is infrequently considered is the unnecessary suffering inflicted upon innocent children through failure of parents and responsible officials to preach and practice vaccination. The amount of schooling lost in Wisconsin each winter to the Wisconsin Conservation Commission for that year.

Favoring the uninterrupted payment to the conservation wardens of adequate and efficient salaries and expense allowance, and the enactment by the legislature of a reasonable pension law for conservation wardens.

Approving the work being done by the Forestry division of the Conservation Commission but suggesting that all monies needed by the department be provided from other sources than the direct license fees collected from sportsmen.

Recommending that the fine for violation of the deer laws be increased from $50 to $150 to take it away from the justice courts.

Recommending that no change be made in the size or bag limit of trout, the kind of boats used in hunting or fishing, nor the erection and location of blinds, except that a hunter be permitted to erect a blind 10 feet out side the natural cover.

Recommending that the opening date for trapping furbearing animals be November 1 instead of November 15 except skunk and coon, which shall be October 1.

tor through sickness, quarantine and closing of schools is excessive. Each new crop of unvaccinated children affords a most fertile field for smallpox.

"Most annoying to the health officials of the state is the necessity for exerting valuable time and energy to the stupendous task of controlling a disease for which a preventive of known efficiency is available. These efforts necessarily detract from the battles waged against the more baffling diseases for which no preventive or curative measures are at hand.

"There is no reasonable argument against the successful vaccination of all persons in Wisconsin against smallpox, for ample proof of the efficiency of the procedure is available from innumerable sources. When properly performed the operation may be classed as trivial, causing a minimum of inconvenience and maximum of protection against a disease which should not be tolerated in the state.

"Much of the dispute into which vaccination has fallen is due to its faulty performance. The proper method of vaccinating and one upon which parents should insist and physicians invariably follow may be thus described: The skin should be carefully cleansed and dried before the fresh vaccine is applied. Then, with a sharp sterile needle a single scratch not exceeding one-eighth of an inch in length should be made through the vaccine. Blood should not be drawn, merely a bit of pink serum. With the side of the needle the vaccine should then be gently worked into the scratch. After-care of the wound is important but simple. A shield is not ordinarily required, a clean soft undershirt between the vaccination and the clothing usually sufficing.

"A vaccination performed and cared for in the manner indicated causes no ill effects and confers lasting protection against smallpox. If vaccination were applied intelligently and generally throughout the state one of the most easily preventable diseases would be eliminated. How long will the people of Wisconsin procrastinate in this matter?"

HOT LUNCHES IN RURAL SCHOOL

Pershing School Prepares Attractive Menu of Lunches for Week.

Lunches are now being served in the majority of Outagamie county schools. In most schools a warm dish is offered with the children's lunch. In some instances the children take milk to school with them.

The Pershing school, district No. 5, Ellington, is offering the following menu this week: Monday, cocoa; Tuesday, beef soup; Wednesday, creamed potatoes; Thursday, vegetable soup; Friday, chocolate pudding with cream. The teacher, Miss Doris Washburn, supervises the preparation of each day's special dish, and a committee is responsible for the necessary cooking attention during school hours.

When the noon hour arrives, desks are cleared, paper napkins are distributed and each pupil uses his desk top for his table. The pupils enjoy this opportunity of learning customs that will be helpful to them in social activities later on.

Miss Mabel Hansen, who was employed during the summer in the office of Joseph Kofford and Son, has returned to her home in Black River Falls.

DUROC SALE TO BE HELD AT ARMORY

Chamber of Commerce Assures Its Co-operation—Other Matters Discussed.

Duroc Jersey breeders will have the full cooperation of the chamber of commerce when their sale of pure bred hogs is conducted here Jan. 11. Arrangements were completed Wednesday morning to rent the armory. The matter was presented at a meeting of chamber of commerce directors Tuesday evening. They expressed a willingness to grant the Outagamie Co. Duroc Jersey Breeders Ass'n any assistance needed. The Langstadt-Meyer company's new building had been promised, but the company found it would need its new quarters before that time.

A second search was made by William Fountain, chairman of the rural affairs committee, and Hugh G. Corbett, managing secretary. The armory was chosen because it had the best sale facilities, would be heated and would be centrally located. The rental cost will be borne by the chamber.

Other suggestions for furthering the agricultural interests of the county were contained in the report of the rural affairs committee, and some of these may be taken up later.

The directors approved the Merchants Information Bureau proposed by the retail merchants' division of the chamber and gave permission to establish it in the chamber of commerce office.

The report of the community welfare committee on establishing a council of social agencies was presented. The committee announced that another meeting will be called soon to perfect the organization.

A letter addressed to the chamber by M. W. Grant, 738 College avenue, was read. It suggested that the city council purchase Appleton pennants and sell them to local automobile owners at cost. They were to be used by all motorists going to other cities, as a means of advertising Appleton.

Lothar G. Graef, vice-president, presided in the absence of W. C. Wing, president.

Appleton Elks, at their meeting Wednesday evening, "adopted" three Armenian orphans by pledging $180 to the Armenian Relief fund. About $60 is required to feed and clothe an Armenian child for a year, according to information from the relief fund committee.

Wednesday night's meeting was one of the most interesting in several months. Nearly 100 men partook of the moose dinner after which an interesting program was presented. Chaplain Harry Jones, Chicago, was the principal speaker. A committee was appointed to arrange for the annual Elk Christmas activities. A class of 12 candidates was initiated into the order.

Oleo Sales Not Confined To Working Classes Here

Decreasing Price of Butter Is Halting Sale of Substitute.

Oleomargarine, once scorned, has come into its own, and now adorns shelves of many of the "best homes." According to Appleton spectators, it is not only the people who have to keep expenses down, but the so-called "higher class" who use the substitute for butter. However, "oleo" has seen its best days, for growers say that the public is gradually going back to the consumption of butter.

Oleomargarine became popular as an edible during the war when the price of butter was past the high water mark. Now that butter has become somewhat cheaper, oleo serves very well for cooking purposes, while the butter itself is resuming its old place on the table.

The recent falling off of the butter market has caused considerable dissatisfaction among the farmers.

"Ninety-five per cent of the farmers who deal with us, use butter," said T. A. Glaser, assistant manager of the Outagamie Equity Exchange. "We handle perhaps 1,100 pounds of butter per week, and perhaps 25 pounds of the substitute."

"The farmers certainly are dissatisfied with the drop in the market. It is causing a loss for them. They had to pay high prices for labor and seed, and as a result, have a lot of money invested in their crops. Butter, which should bring a high price, is selling down, and it is easy to see why the farmers are hoping to see it go up again."

Why Butter Price Falls
"The decrease in the price of butter is not due to any local condition," said Peter Schaefer, of Schaefer Brothers grocery. "Big allotments of storage butter are coming on the market. The big wholesalers need money and the banks won't extend them credit, so they are obliged to sell their butter to get money."

"The people with plenty of money buy just as much oleomargarine as working people do. In fact, the working class buys butter while the others use the substitute. The idea of the farmers selling their butter and buying oleo is going out of fashion. They are using their own product more than they did."

"You'd be surprised if you knew the sort of people who buy oleo," said Arthur Schell, of the Schell Brothers grocery. "But, of course, a lot of it is used for cooking. The winter season is the oleo season. In the summer it is soft, and the customers don't like to use it."

Butter Sales Larger
"We sell about three pounds of butter to one pound of substitute," said A. J. Herrmann, grocer. "The richer class of people buy just as much oleo as the less fortunate does. Quite a lot of it, tho, is used for baking purposes. I would say that perhaps 50 per cent of it is used for baking." Grocers said that the price of lard was so high that it was just as cheap to use oleomargarine for cooking. Besides that, oleo contains more food value.

APPLETON MAN IS STATE DIRECTOR

Grant Phillips Is Honored at State Game Protective Convention.

Grant Phillips, Harris street, was elected a director of the Wisconsin Game Protective association at the closing session in Madison late Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Phillips was one of the eight delegates from the Outagamie County Fish and Game Protective association. Mark S. Catlin, former president, who was not a candidate for reelection, was succeeded by Judge Asa K. Owens of Phillips, Price county.

Other officers are Frank Prover, La Crosse, vice president; L. A. Brenner, Chippewa Falls, secretary and treasurer; Thomas McNeill, Sheboygan; Dr. A. S. Hegen, Madison; Dr. G. H. Ripley, Kenosha; C. A. Rudquist, Ashland; directors. Mr. McNeill was elected chairman of the board of directors.

The convention was one of the most interesting held by the state association and was attended by many men of prominence.

AUTOIST STRIKES FIVE YEAR OLD BOY AND FLEES

Robert Vincent Peerenboom, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Peerenboom, 556 Morrison street, is steadily recovering from injuries suffered in an accident Monday evening. The boy was crossing College avenue at the Durkee street intersection in company with his brother Carl. They were unaware of the approach of an automobile. Carl was able to get out of the way but Robert was struck by the machine and thrown to the pavement.

The driver, whose name was not ascertained, made his getaway without stopping or inquiring to see if the boy was injured. B. C. Koepke happened to be near the scene of the accident and carried the boy home. His head and one leg were bruised but his injuries were not of a permanent nature.

SAW MILL MAY NOT BE STARTED UNTIL SPRING

Uncertain marketing conditions in the lumber industry will probably mean that the Knoke sawmill on West College avenue will not operate until spring, according to a statement by O. E. Knoke, Halsey, owner. The building is completed and the machinery has arrived. It was originally planned to place the equipment and start the mill at once. It will handle timber from points on the Wisconsin and Northern railroad.

COUNCIL GIVES $2,000 TO BAND

Ten Concerts Will Be Given by Appleton Musical Organization in 1921.

Adequate support is assured the Ninth Regiment band by the action of common council Wednesday night when $2,000 was appropriated to pay for ten concerts, at least two of which will be held in Lawrence Memorial chapel during the winter. The schedule is to be arranged by the finance committee of the council, working with the band committee.

The appropriation this year is just twice as large as that provided a year ago. Three more concerts are to be given and the band will number 40 men instead of 30.

Considerable opposition to the chapel concerts was manifested on the ground that music lovers who go to the chapel can afford to pay admission charges. It was contended that the quality of music offered there is not the kind desired by the average citizen. A compromise agreement provides that two concerts will be played there and if they give satisfaction two more may be arranged and the remainder are to be presented out of doors during the summer months.

Alderman Mayer opposed the entire proposition on the ground that no provision was made in the budget for the extra $1,000 appropriation and he voted against the resolution.

road prosecuted several people for trespassing on its right of way with the hope that the practice would stop. No heed was paid to the warning, and in fact a night passenger train was obliged to use its emergency brakes to keep from running down pedestrians who were somewhat independent about getting out of the way.

Railroad detectives have therefore decided to make wholesale arrests and prosecutions unless trespassing stops at once. They notified the police department to this effect and Chief T. Prim has issued a warning accordingly.

It is the railroad company's program of safety that has led to the campaign against trespassing. Use of the tracks, no matter whether in the heart of the city or at outlying places is a violation of the law. The tracks are used more as a highway in Appleton than most other places, because they form a convenient cross cut.

TAKES MONEY TO KEEP UP DOBBIN'S REPAIRS

Old Dobbin is more unpopular now than ever, although he must be depended upon pretty much when the roads drift in. His winter sharp shoes could be thrown aside in other years with the arrival of spring and it would cost only 13 cents apiece to have them nailed on again in the fall by a blacksmith.

Horse owners were surprised this year when they had to lay up their buzz wagons and take up with their steeds again. They trotted the old boy to the blacksmith shop, presented the shoes to the smithy, had them nailed on and then paid the bill—$3.60.

There appears to be no such thing as a horseshoeing apprentice these days. Blacksmiths gave up one by one and everybody seemed to think they would soon be extinct. Blacksmith help has therefore been impossible to obtain, and this is believed to be the partial cause of higher rates.

STEEL TRUST LEADS OPEN SHOP FIGHT

Labor Leader Charges Steel Men Are Trying to Break Up Union.

By United Press Leased Wire
New York—The "steel trust" is the "heart and soul of the present open shop drive against organized labor," William Z. Foster, leader in the steel strike of 1919, said today in commenting on the testimony of Eugene G. Cope, president of the Bethlehem Steel company, before the legislative committee investigating the building industry.

Graco said his company refused to sell steel to builders unless they agreed to erect it under the open shop system.

"No union will be safe until the steel industry is organized," Foster declared.

"This practice of refusing to sell steel to concerns employing union labor is only part of the steel trust's gigantic conspiracy to crush organized labor."

ABANDON EFFORT TO WIDEN ALLEY IN SECOND WARD

Pettibone Company Rejects Proposition to Cut Seven Feet From Annex.

WILL ACCEPT EASEMENT

City Attorney Instructed to Push Sherman House Alley Condemnation.

Efforts to widen the east entrance to the alley running east and west between Appleton and Superior streets, in the block between College avenue and Washington street, were abandoned by the common council at its meeting Wednesday night when it was announced that the Pettibone-Peabody company would not entertain any proposition to widen the alley passing through its annex building. It had been suggested that the alley, which is now nine feet wide, be enlarged to 16 feet, making it necessary to cut seven feet from the Pettibone building.

Efforts to create an alley 16 feet wide through the block were started some time ago when condemnation proceedings were instituted in the county court. The original petition provided for an alley 16 feet wide through the block except at the east end. An amendment to the petition was offered to the council providing for enlarging the east entrance.

Prohibitive Cost
Alderman opposed the amendment on the ground that the cost of cutting seven feet from the Pettibone alley will be so great that it will be necessary to abandon the entire alley proposition. The annex building, at best, is inadequate and if it be still further reduced in size it will be practically worthless, it was said. The city engineering department estimated that the cost of enlarging the entrance, exclusive of the damage to the property, would be $4,600, while Pettibone company officials said the cost would be nearer $7,500.

The discussion revealed that all the property owners in the block, with the exception of the Pettibone-Peabody company and A. J. Hermann were willing to donate sufficient land to establish a 16 foot alley. It was finally agreed that a sixteen foot alley shall be created except on the east end; that condemnation proceedings involving the Pettibone-Peabody company be dropped and that the city enter into contract with the Pettibone company whereby the latter agrees to permit public use of its private alley for a ten year period at $1 a year.

The city attorney was also instructed to press the condemnation proceedings necessary to establish an alley running east and west between Oneida and Morrison streets. It is proposed to extend the alley eight feet each way from the center of the present driveway.

Will Appoint Assessor

After adopting an ordinance which incorporated part of the general state law, relating to the appointment of city officers, as part of the city's code, another ordinance was introduced, providing for the appointment of one assessor by the common council for a term of two years, displacing the present system whereby three assessors are elected by the people. The ordinance fixes the salary of the assessor at $2,200 a year but this is subject to revision by the ordinance committee, to which it was referred. It is planned to have the new system in operation before the 1920 assessments are started.

Alderman Hanson offered a resolution requesting the railroad commission to immediately require the Chicago and Northwestern railroad company to install gates at the Meade street crossing. The accident in which Henry N. Steffen lost his life on Tuesday prompted the action.

Want State Rd. Paved

The street committee was instructed to confer with the county highway commission in an effort to have State road, instead of Second avenue, paved by the county. The county board, at its recent meeting, instructed the commission to pave Second avenue from its intersection with the state road, to Richmond street. Alderman Laabs suggested that the pavement be diverted to State road. His plan met with considerable objection but was finally adopted.

Alderman Laabs also secured adoption of a resolution instructing the city attorney to confer with the secretary of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities with reference to securing legislation permitting cities of the third class to deal with the smoke nuisance.

A loan of $10,000 to the high school board until February 1 was authorized.

Submit Tractor Bids

Nine companies submitted proposals to sell a tractor to be used in removing snow from the city streets. The bids were submitted to the street committee for investigation. They were as follows: Fox River Tractor company, Appleton, $3,100; The Avery company, $3,458 and $3,258; Topp-Stewart company, $3,500; Eagle Manufacturing company, $1,850; Bates Steel Mule, $2,150; Holt Manufacturing company, $4,250 and $6,500; Advance-Rumely Thresher Co., $2,223.18; Uncle Sam Tractor Co., $2,255.

Anton Stadler was awarded the contract for tearing down the old Lawe street bridge. His offer was $105. Other bids were: John Croell, $50; Frank Barz, use of the material and $1; J. H. Walte, $25.

TAX COLLECTIONS FAR SHORT OF ESTIMATES

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington—Approximately $550,000,000 should be in the hands of the government today as the fourth installment of taxes on incomes and excess profits earned in 1919. Most of the money was due from millionaire partnerships and corporations.

STATE GOVERNMENT VIVIDLY DESCRIBED

Dr. Kinsman Declares Ignorance Is Greatest Danger in Legislature.

"The state was the first form of political organization in America," said Dr. D. O. Kinsman in his lecture on the "Organization and Work of the State Legislature" before the civics department of The Woman's Club at four o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Vocational school.

"The state is the descendant of colonial government. The state as a unit exercises original powers. The thirteen original state governments made possible the existence of a national government. The constitution is a contract between the central government and either the states or the people. If the contract is between the central government and the states and the central government should not fulfill its obligations, the state would not be obliged to keep its part of the contract. An example of this may be seen in the secession of the southern states at the time of the civil war. The people of the northern states held that the contract was between the central government and the people.

All governments, whether above or below the state, receive power from the state government.

"While the federal government has only three departments—law making, law applying and law enforcing—the state government has four departments, the law administering department being added to the other three.

All Citizens May Vote
"When our forefathers planned the state government, they found it impossible to have an absolutely pure democracy, with all the voters making laws, so they adopted the representative system. The legislature was to be composed of representatives sent by the people. The emphasis was laid upon the person, not property.

"The government of Wisconsin may be entirely state, receive power from the carrying power of his voice and his business ability.

"The lobbyists are required to register, tell who they represent and how much money they are paid. At any time the clerk may be ordered to read this list. The committees have great power over bills. They are required to have the proceedings registered by a clerk.

FOURTH SYNOD IS HELD AT GREEN BAY

175 Priests of Green Bay Diocese Consider Problems of Church.

About 175 priests from the Green Bay diocese of the Catholic church are attending the fourth diocesan synod, which opened Tuesday at Green Bay. The sessions continue through Thursday.

Pontifical high mass was celebrated in St. Francis Xavier cathedral at the opening by the Rt. Rev. Paul P. Rhode, D. O., assisted by the Mgr. P. J. Lochman, V. G., Kaukauna as assistant priest; the Rev. P. VanSusteren and the Rev. J. Thoren, Green Bay, as deacon and sub-deacon of the mass. The Revs. B. Penning, DePere, and T. J. O'Leary, Green Bay, acted as deacons of honor. The Revs. J. J. Sprangers, A. Van Bogart, and J. Huhn served as masters of ceremonies.

The Rev. L. Doblmeier, DePere, presided at the organ and directed the choir, composed of clerics of the DePere and Kaukauna monasteries. The offertory was sung by the Cathedral boys' choir under the direction of the Rev. J. Gebi, with Miss Louise Berendson as organist.

EIGHT PLAYERS IN BASEBALL TRADE

Rube Marquard Is Traded to Cincinnati for Pitcher. Reuther.

New York—The New York and Boston clubs of the American league on Wednesday completed a trade involving eight players. Catcher Muddy Ruel, Pitcher Herb Thormahlen, Second Baseman Del Pratt and Outfielder Sam Vick of the Yankees go to the Red Sox in exchange for Catcher Wally Schang, Pitchers Harry Harper and Waite Hoyt and Infielder Mike McNally.

The trade was engineered by Col. Jacob Ruppert and Harry Frazee, presidents of the New York and Boston clubs, respectively. They announced no money was involved in the transaction. It was made on the condition that both clubs assume the responsibility of signing the players.

Pratt May Not Play.

Del Pratt is the only one of the players about whom there seems to be doubt about playing next season. He signed a contract as athletic coach with a western university at the conclusion of last season and declared his intention to quit baseball. The Kansas management, however, on Wednesday

Rev. F. X. Steimbacher, notary of the synod. The assembled clergy then made the profession of faith and the oath of obedience to ecclesiastical authority.

The business session was held in the afternoon at St. Joseph orphanage. Discussions concerning the amendments of the diocesan laws and regulations took up the greater part of the three-day period.

The three main subjects of discussion were "Matters Pertaining to the Church Discipline," "Life and Work of the Clergy," and "The Service Given to the Faithful in View of Present Day Conditions."

RIESENWEBER COW HAS HIGH RECORD

Eight Ellington Cows Produce Over 40 Pounds Butter Fat in October.

"Molly," a grade Guernsey owned by Henry Riesenweber, carried off the laurels for production in the October contest of the Ellington Cow Testing association, according to the report of Matthew Nelson, official tester. She gave 859 pounds of milk testing 6 per cent fat and producing 51.5 pounds of butter fat.

Molly has been a steady producer since she freshened April 6. Her two year old daughter "Dorothy," owned by O. H. Breitrich, is keeping up the standard of the parent. She freshened May 27 and has proven her ability to produce her 40 pounds of butter fat a month. Her record for October was 783 pounds of milk testing 5.4 per cent and yielding 42.3 pounds of butter fat.

A total of 378 cows was tested by the association. Seventy are not producing.

The Guernsey herd owned by Dietz brothers made the highest average production of butter fat per cow. The 21 cows averaged 607 pounds of milk and 27.3 pounds of butter fat. Second honors are claimed by George Sauberlich's herd of 16 Guernseys, averaging 603 pounds of milk and 26.8 pounds of butter fat per cow.

SCOUTS FORM FIRE SQUAD AT HI SCHOOL

Chief McGillan Instructs Youths in Use of Hose and Fire Extinguishers.

Organization of a fire fighting squad among Boy Scouts attending Appleton high school has been started by George P. McGillan, chief of the fire department. Fifteen boys are enrolled in the company which is to be drilled in the use of the fire hose and chemical fire extinguishers. It is possible that similar companies will be formed in the ward schools and the boys given instruction in the use of the chemical extinguishers. Chief McGillan believes that well drilled companies will be able to render excellent service in case of school fires before the arrival of the fire department. Chief McGillan appeared before the common council Wednesday evening and requested an appropriation sufficient to purchase 24 nickel plated badges for Boy Scout auxiliary firemen. The matter was referred to the fire and water committee which will also consider the desirability of the scout auxiliary.

EXPRESS CO. AGENT HELPS AUTO OWNERS

Appleton people who have been wondering where they can get application blanks for automobile licenses, are being supplied by the American Express office. W. N. Kimball, local agent, received the application blanks from Madison, because of the fact that no one else in the city seemed to have them. Mr. Kimball says that money orders and stamps may also be obtained at his office.

Reorganization Of Park Board Is Urged

Alderman Fose Suggests Board of Nine Members to Supervise Park System—West Park in Fourth Ward May Be Purchased by City.

Reorganization of the Appleton park board in order to secure more adequate representation was suggested at the regular meeting of the common council Wednesday evening when the entire park problem was reviewed. Inactivity of the present park board was criticized.

The council apparently favored a plan submitted by Alderman Charles Fose to enlarge the park board to nine members, including three women, three members of the common council and three private citizens. No definite action was taken on the proposal, however.

Discussion of the park system started when a petition, signed by the Boy Scout advisory council, requesting the use of Alicia park and cottage for a permanent week end camp was presented. Alderman Laabs opposed granting any organization exclusive use of any park facilities but urged the boys to make as much use of the property as they can, at the same time respecting the rights of other people to visit and make use of the grounds.

A committee consisting of Aldermen Hanson, Smith and Fose was appointed to confer with the Scout advisory council and to report at the next meeting of the common council.

Alicia park again entered into the discussion when Alderman Laabs offered a resolution to sell the residence property in the park and use the proceeds for improving the ground. He contended that the house detracted from the beauty of the place and that the tenant, by maintaining a small chicken farm and garden, has kept people away.

Mayor Hawes and several aldermen held, however, that in the event it becomes necessary to employ a caretaker for the park it will be easier to secure a competent man if a house is provided for him and suggested that the residence and barn be moved to a less conspicuous place. It was also urged that the matter be held up until the proposed reorganization of the park board is completed. Ten aldermen sided in this view and Laabs' motion was lost.

The finance committee was instructed to investigate the desirability of purchasing West Park in the Fourth ward for the city. This park, which is located near the river, was described as one of the city's finest beauty spots. It is probable the property will be purchased if the price is within reason.

GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Eat Less Meat If You Feel Backache or Have Bladder Trouble—Salts Fine for Kidneys

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to cleanse and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases. adv.

What's Gone? Lumbago

You Won't Stay in Bed Long if You Rub on Quick-Acting Begy's Mustardine

It does the work and cannot blister the tenderest skin.

Keep a box handy, for lumbago comes quickly and you can let it wait until it goes quickly when it comes.

And it will go quicker than you ever hoped for and so will sore throat, chest colds, tonsillitis, pleurisy and bronchitis.

Begy's Mustardine often ends the misery and subdues the inflammation before most remedies you have heard about get started.

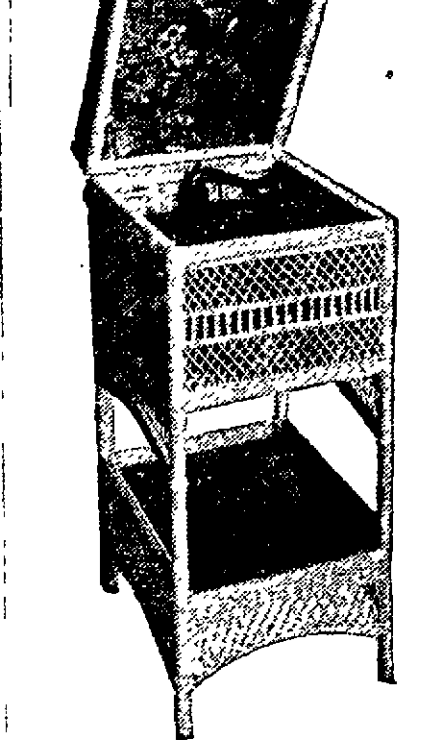

So why suffer for days while using slow-acting remedies when rheumatic pains are eased, neuralgia banished and soreness and stiffness ended in double quick time.

For every ache and pain and to get influenza before it gets you, get Begy's Mustardine, in the yellow box—30 and 60 cents—the Quickest Pain Killer on Earth.
